

TWO MORE SHIPS IN PORT BEARING SCARS OF GALES

Funnels of the Vaderland
Crusted With Sea Salt
When She Limp In.

RYNDAM STORM-TOSSED

Young Widow Ranch Owner
Has Arm Broken While
Liner Was Pitching.

Two more ships of the transatlantic fleet which have been battered by the unusual gales of the last week came to port today bearing marks of their encounters with sea and wind. The Vaderland of the Red Star line had the starboard side of her two tall black funnels crusted with sea salt an inch deep. Her log showed that the hurricane on Wednesday had slowed down her speed to about a third of her fair weather rate or 122 miles between noon Tuesday and noon Wednesday.

WOMAN WHOSE ARM WAS BROKEN AS SHIP ROCKED IN A GALE.

Senora C. de la Vega

She had the storm at its worst on Wednesday. The boat pitched so that Senora C. de la Vega, a widow, the young and beautiful owner of a coffee ranch near Guatemala City was thrown down while standing at the washstand in her stateroom and her arm was broken. The Ryndam was met at her pier by the assistant purser, C. D. Leemhuis, who went ashore at Halifax to make sure that Benjamin Ochmann, a steersman passenger, safely started on his railroad journey into Canada. Ochmann had not revealed on the trip across any bright ideas of self-management or of understanding traveling complications. The assistant purser could not find him ashore and, missing the sailing of the Ryndam, came to New York by rail.

NOW THEY'LL TAG HIM AND SHIP HIM TO CANADA.

He found Ochmann aboard; the immigrant officers by remaining asleep in his bunk when the Halifax passengers went ashore. Ochmann will be sent to Canada in bond.

The unhappiness caused by the storm was lessened on the Ryndam by the irrepressible levity of Miss Suzanne Michod, an operatic soprano, who has been studying in Paris, and her younger sister, Miss Anne Hambrick. The two are the daughters of a ranchman at San Angelo, Texas.

"Father said," Miss Michod, who is a widow, explained, "that Anne was too wild for Texas, so he shipped her to me. Well, I found that without a horse to ride or cattle to chase she was too wild for Paris, so I am bringing her home."

Miss Hambrick nodded emphatic approval of the verdict.

ALAS, POOR JULIUS!

ALBANY, N. Y., Nov. 13.—Julius Harburger to-day filed with the Secretary of State an account showing $2,472 spent during the last campaign, in which he ran for Governor.

Thomas P. Green, Treasurer of the Democratic County Committee of Queens, certified to spending $18,677.

DEMENTED WOMAN FOUND.

Is Believed to Have Gone to Middletown From New York.

(Special to The Evening World.)

MIDDLETOWN, N. Y., Nov. 12.—A young woman, who was found roaming about the streets of this city late last night, apparently demented, has been committed to the State Hospital here.

She is believed to have alighted from one of the late trains from New York, but nothing has been learned regarding her identity. The woman was well dressed. She is apparently about twenty-five years of age, slight build, light hair and wore a fur coat.

Extraordinary Event and Anniversary

Magnificent Sale of Women's and Misses' Apparel,
Suits, Gowns, Dresses, Hats, Coats and Furs,
All at Phenominally Low Prices—Finest Qualities.

THIS IS IN EVERY WAY A MAGNIFICENT EVENT. It is the ANNIVERSARY of the PELLER-DAVIS SALE OF WOMEN'S APPAREL which took place last year and was the greatest merchandising occasion of its kind that ever occurred in this country. It is customary for this store to equal, if not exceed, every such event on its Anniversary.

We started preparations independently of all other business and asked the co-operation of the leading makers who contribute the best and most of our apparel, firms with whom we do an enormous business. They are recognized as the leaders in their particular branches of the business.

They have entered into the spirit of the occasion with a vim and have delivered splendid lots of superb garments at a concession that permits us to offer them to you at far below regular prices.

It is a magnificent event in magnitude, an unparalleled event in underpricing, a fascinating event in its infinite variety, an inspiring occasion in its exhibition of all that is new and best and most stylish in SUITS, DRESSES, COATS, WAISTS, FURS, HATS for every feminine age from the tiny tot to the stylish mother.

It is wonderful in its price scope, covering in its extraordinary style area something for every one at a dollar or less up to the finest garments made into the hundreds of dollars.
